AFTERMATH...RED 0

The worst thing. I'm probably not dead, because there are worse things than being dead. I'm going to take a moment to think about it and get back to you concerning what exactly the worst thing I can imagine is. I may ask you all for your advice.

AFTERMATH...RED 1

Horrifying. I'm probably dead, right? Other people, too. Probably innocent people. There is no justice, there is no mercy, everything is utterly, painfully screwed and it is all—all of it—my fault.

AFTERMATH...RED 2

Revolting. Well, that was nasty and probably extremely brutal. I'm just speculating here, but my guess is that I've lost something precious—like a body part or my soul—while traveling on my personal road to grand, ignominious failure. Maybe I'm dead, maybe not.

AFTERMATH...RED 3

Disastrous. My situation can be summed up in one word—"harsh." I have problems now that I didn't have before, hanging over me like evil black clouds. Medical problems. Personal problems. Nothing I need is coming my way, ever

AFTERMATH...RED 4

Horrendous. I've failed, that's for sure, failed hard, and I'm pretty sure something is broken, and maybe this limp will be permanent, and there's no way my reputation is ever going to recover from this foolishness.

AFTERMATH...RED 5

Desperate. Well, I've been whipped like a rented mule, for starters, and I will remember this episode for all my diminished days. The lesson has been as profound as it has been painful. Nothing is ever going to be good again.

AFTERMATH...RED 6-7

Pathetic. This did not go well for me and I'm going to suffer for it. Everyone is going to know about my malfeasance, my stupidity, my lack of common sense and decency. I have a strong feeling I'm also going to go to jail.

AFTERMATH...RED 8-9

Hapless. While I'm not precisely "better off," I'm no worse for having been involved in this ridiculous disaster either. I'm back where I was, and, given the circumstances, I'm sure we can all agree that is pretty good.

AFTERMATH...RED 10-11

Tolerable. I've emerged from this remarkable mess smelling like a rose, to be honest. I feel like I'm a little better off, actually. It's not like I learned anything, but I also probably didn't get caught.

AFTERMATH...RED 12

Amazing. There are things I have wanted, and now I have acquired them. Love, money, respect, cake—those things are mine through good luck and good karma, and now I will be happy forever.

AFTERMATH...BLUE 0

The worst thing. I'm probably not dead, because there are worse things than being dead. I'm going to take a moment and think about it and get back to you concerning what exactly the worst thing I can imagine is. I may ask you all for your advice.

AFTERMATH...BLUE 1

Terrible. I have a strong feeling I'm dead right now, which feels like the right thing to be. My ugly failure has no doubt dragged people I care about into my contemptible wake, and they are probably dead too. I should be ashamed but I bet I'm not, because I am terrible.

AFTERMATH... BLUE 2

You know what's fun? Children crying when they see me. Kids are smart—they know a ruined person when they see one. I'm going to be haunted forever by what I've done, and all my plans are ending in complete and utter ruin.

AFTERMATH...BLUE 3

Repulsive. Most likely I'm not be dead on the outside, but I'm sure as hell dead on the inside. The emotional or mental wounds I've have suffered? Those will never heal. The future is a brick wall.

AFTERMATH...BLUE 4

Shocking. Well, that was humiliating. My reputation is now in dirty pieces all around me, and I'll never think of these days without a shudder of horror at my own aggressive ignorance. I think my best days are behind me.

AFTERMATH...BLUE 5

Appalling. I don't want to seem bitter, now I know what it's like to be utterly crushed, casually brought low, forced to eat my own words, and stand mute and powerless before my enemies. They gloat, and I am helpless. So that's nice.

AFTERMATH...BLUE 6-7

Wretched. Things have been better. I've been ground down and brought low, but at least I've learned a lesson about human greed and frailty. This lesson will serve me well in prison, which feels like a logical next step in my career.

AFTERMATH...BLUE 8-9

Unfortunate. It's true I've made some mistakes, perhaps some very serious ones, but in the end here I am, more or less whole, more or less not broke, a prisoner, or dead. Let's agree to call that a win.

AFTERMATH...BLUE 10-11

Adequate. My dignity is intact and I feel good about myself. There's a good chance that some of the things I wanted have fallen into my lap, and I intend to enjoy them and stay out of prison.

AFTERMATH...BLUE 12+

Inspirational. When you look at me you see an example of someone who has it all. Despite a lot of hardship and danger, I persevered and triumphed. I got what I wanted, and then some. My genius and hard work have made me the success I am today.
