BODY POCKET

You have a pouch in your body where you can hide anything as big as a laser pistol. Feeling that area will reveal there is something under your skin but visual scans show nothing.

CHARM LOCKS

Locks tend to be your plaything. Even from a distance, you can lock or unlock doors, padlocks, etc. Digital or analogue does not matter. They open or close at your command, until you break them.

DIRECTION SENSE

While Alpha Complex doesn't use cardinal directions, you know how to get between where you are and where you have been at least once. No idea if it's a safe route but it's definitely that-a-way.

ECHOLOCATION

Using a sound humans cannot hear (but bots and animals can), you can effectively see in the dark. Spend extra Moxie to see details but you can never detect colour.

HEAR EYES

From spying citizens to hidden cameras, you can hear when you are under surveillance. What does it sound like? Staring. It sounds like staring.

JUMPER

Leap tall buildings... wait, that's too much. You can jump high and far. How much? Depends on how much Moxie you spend. Just watch that landing.

LIQUIFIER

Your body turns into a thick liquid for a minute or so, letting you flow through thin cracks. Your gear, however, does not change.

RECHARGER

You can recharge gear and bots by turning Moxie into electricity or Charge. You can do the same backwards to get some Moxie, too. It still costs Moxie to use this power.

UNIVERSAL TRANSLATOR

You can understand what people, bots and animals are talking about and, sometimes, you can speak back so they understand too. Sometimes.

TOXIC ODOUR

Sort of the opposite of pheromones, you can activate this power to send out a musky scent that makes people and animals go far away.

WIGGLER

You wiggle your body down to the molecules, causing it to go out of phase with reality. Burn 1 Moxie to shake the very atoms in your hand and pass it through solid objects. Spending more Moxie might let you walk through walls.
